School District Trustee Election Set For April 2

The election of all district school trustees will be held on Saturday, April 2.

Any person desiring to have his name placed on the official ballot as a candidate for the office of school trustee of a common school district, a rural high school district, or an independent school district with less than 500 scholastics shall at least 10 days before the election file a written request with the County Judge, requesting that his or her name be placed on the official ballot. Five or more resident qualified voters in a district may request by written petition to the County Judge that certain names be printed on the official ballot. The final filing date for these districts will be March 23.

These regulations pertain to all school districts of the county exclusive of McKinney, Farmersville, Plano, and Wylie. Since these districts have more than 500 scholastics persons desiring to become candidates must file a written request with the secretary of the school board of said districts instead of with the County Judge. The practice of filing applications with the secretary of the board and the board fixing the final filing date is within the implied authority of independent school districts with more than 500 scholastics. Voters in these districts may check with secretaries of School Boards for filing date.

It was also voted to add four rooms to the J. W. Webb (East) Ward School building, work to start immediately. This additional space is greatly needed in the local school system.

A report was made of the recent attack on a school boy by a dog. All such animals will be ordered off the grounds at all times and the children are asked to leave their dogs at home to prevent a reoccurance of such attacks.

The president appointed Jack Anderson and Dr. J. C. Hicks Jr. as a committee to secure an equalization board. Dr. Hicks was elected in that capacity.

Mrs. Caldwell Is State Officer In Federated Clubs

McKinney club women, in their plans to entertain the Second District Federation of Women's Clubs here on March 22 and 23, feel honored that one of the State officers in the Texas Federation of Women's Clubs, is a resident here. Mrs Roy Caldwell, chairman of Veterans Affairs for the State Federation, is also a district officer, being second vice-president of Second District.

Under the chairmanship of Mrs Caldwell, many worthy and outstainding projects have been underway to benefit the patients in McKinney as well as the other hospitals in the State. Local clubs have taken turns through the year in entertaining the patients, and serving refreshments. They have also decorated the hospital for Christmas holidays each year and in many other ways ministered to the needs and recreation of the patients.

The Veterans Administration Volunteer Service advisory committee, of which Mrs. Caldwell is a member, which meets the second Wednesday of each month, is open to any organization willing to assist in this project. The VAVS meets in the main recreational building No. 151 at the hospital at 10:30 a.m. on the designated second Wednesday. Many organizations are already represented in the VAVS, but any others interested are also invited to participate in this recreational program. Local Clubs are especially urged to meet with the planning committee.

These VAVS meetings are held to discuss the needs of the veteran and what can be done for him.

Mrs. Caldwell's theme in her work is "we must not forget the veteran who has done so much for use."

Mrs. Julius Smith of McKinney is Mrs. Caldwell's alternate in this work.

By FRANCES STOGDILL

The first regular directors' meeting of the Chamber of Commerce, for this fiscal year, was held Tuesday afternoon at 3:15 o'clock in the Chamber of Commerce offices, presided over by President W. T. (Bill) Dungan. Twenty-three directors and visitors were present to hear the appointment of committees for the year, and other reports from the various chairmen.

Leon Dollens read minutes of the last regular meetings as well as executive meetings, after which the president gave a report of his recent trip to Austin concerning the Trinity Improvement Bill. Treasurer Paul Hardin was also called upon for a report.

A. H. Witherspoon, president of the Park Board, stated that a verbal agreement had been negotiated with a McKinney man as concessionaire of Clearlake Park, at Lake Lavon. Clearlake Park site was acquired by McKinney last year for recreational purposes, and improvements begun. The local Chamber of Commerce was instrumental in raising money for the first improvements, putting the park in condition for use last year. It is one of the most beautiful sites on the lake and was visited by thousands each week last season.

The agreement with the concessionaire calls for $14,750 expenditure, which includes an entrance sign, boat dock, concession, office, living quarters for concessionaire, fresh water supply, two public toilets, two dressing rooms, clean underbrush, improve swimming beach, 20 boats for rent and equipment, and rent motors.

The remainder of funds, raised by the Chamber of Commerce last year for improvements at the park, will be used to further equip the park with picnic tables and barbecue pits and sand the swimming beach.

Witherspoon is also chairman of the Industrial Committee and made another good report concerning a plant, locating in McKinney. Negotiations have practically been completed and it is expected that announcement of its locating here will be made definite within a few days.

Charlie Angel reported for the Transportation Committee stating that contacts for the expressway are still being made with property owners. An agreement has not been reached as to the route at this time.

During the afternoon the board voted to again cooperate with the club ladies of the city when they welcome delegates from the Second District Federation of Women's Clubs, March 22 and 23.

Due to the recent resignation of Leon Dollens as manager, the Chamber of Commerce is receiving applications to fill his duties here. Paul Hardin reported several applications had already been received and interviews would be held within the next few weeks.

George Webb, president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce, reported some of the activities of that group of young business men of the city. He stated that the street in front of the Jaycee Recreation Center is being improved by the City. On Thursday the Agriculture classes of Boyd High School will sod the grounds at the Center, putting them in readiness for the coming season when many out-door activities will take place there.

At this meeting it was voted to invite some of the Jaycees to serve with the committees of the Senior Chamber of Commerce.

County Farm Agent Virgil Dahlberg stated that Dairy Day had been set for May 5.

Supt. Hailds Pearce briefly explained some of the activities underway this week in observance of Texas Education Week and stated that all plans had met with enthusiasm by the teachers students and patrons.

President Dungan announced that the next membership meeting to which the general public is invited, will be held April 12 at 3:30 p.m. in the CC offices. The first of these quarterly meetings was held in january, being largely attended. All newcomers to McKinney are especially invited, as well as anyone else interested. A short informal program will be presented and refreshments served. Fred McKinney and A. H. Witherspoon will be hosts for the meeting.

Next Tuesday afternoon, March 15, another meeting will be held at the CC office at which time the budget for the coming year, will be set. All directors are urged to be present.

At the close of the meeting President Dungan presented a beautiful leather brief case to Manager Dollens as a farewell gift. He is leaving this week for Waco where he has accepted a position as assistant manager of the Chamber of Commerce there. Mr. and Mrs. Dollens and young son, Byron, have made a host of friends during their three years residence here, all of whom wish him continued success in his new work.

Sub-Stations For Car Tags Are Set Up

Sub-stations for registering motor vehicles have been set up at four towns in Collin County. Other than the tax Collector-Assessor's office here, announces Lewis Baldwin. He urges that all motor car owners secure their 1955 plates as early in the month as possible and thus avoid the usual last minute rush. Leadline for purchase tag without penalty is March 31.

Newly established sub-stations are at the bank in Anna, the chamber of Commerce in Wylie, the Co-op Gin at Frisco, and the Chamber of Commerce in Farmersville.

Sub-stations have been in operation since February 1 at the City Hall in Celina, and the Chamber of Commerce in Plano and at the telephone office in Joshepine.

Mr. Baldwin hopes to establish a station at Blue Ridge within the next few days for the convenience of motor car and truck owners in Northeast Collin.

Only a small percentage of the total number of tags to be sold had been issued early this week.

First Graders Attend School At Downtown Store

The downtown show windows, displaying exhibits from the various schools, or departments, in the city, are drawing the attention of all passersby. One of the most interesting attractions is the first grade classes taught at Johnson's Furniture store each morning and afternoon.

The schools alternate in holding these class sessions at the store, where a temporary class room has been set up with desks for the little tots as well as their teacher, a big blackboard, and other necessary equipment. The regular class routine is carried out in the session with a recess period during mid-morning, for refreshments. Thus far, the East, West and South Ward schools have been represented. The Central Ward group will hold classes there Thursday as well as Mrs. Haynes kindergarten group at 11 a.m. Thursday. The North Ward first graders will hold classes there Friday.

Another show window exhibit eliciting much comment is the text book window at the McKinney Drug where copies of books used in all grades from the first, through the twelfth, are on display. Facts concerning these books are printed on large placards in the window as follows:

A child studies 265 books from the first, through the twelfth grade.

29,127 volumes of text books were on hand in the McKinney schools at the beginning of this year.

8,396 volumes were added this year.

A total of 37,523 text books are in use in the McKinney schools.

A cost of $8,768.12 to the state, for books added this year.

Total cost to the state for all books used here $41,275.30.

The Homemaking Department of Boyd High School has arranged exhibits in the Smith Jewelry Store and J. C. Penney store windows.

At the back of the window is the large poster which reads, "A little work, a lot of fun for the whole family." The exhibit includes aluminum trays of various sizes, leatherwork including belts and purses; handblocked towels, painted greeting cards, dainty hand-made aproints, painted pictures, and needlework.

At the Penney store show window a group of dresses are modeled including a duster, lace evening dress, strapless cotton frock and street dress. They are beautifully designed and reveal the neatest of hand-work by the seamstress.

Mayor Newsome is president of the Texas League of Municipalities. His interest in city politics began several years ago when he served as City Commissioner with the late Mayor Tom W. Perkins.

Only 35 Percent Collin Cars Have Been Inspected

Bill Simmons, of Sherman, district supervisor of motor vehicle inspection for the Public Safety Department of Texas, was a business visitor in McKinney Thursday. Mr. Simmons pointed out that of the 16,600 motor vehicles registered in Collin County this year, only 5,630 of them have been inspected thus far, which is only 35 percent.

The deadline for this inspection is April 15 and there are 20 stations in Collin County where motorists can have their cars inspected. The inspection sticker is only $1. Mr. Simmons states that all cars, who do not have the 1955 sticker after the April 15 deadline, are subject to a $200 fine.

He urges motorists to go immediately to their nearest inspection station and avoid the last minute rush. According to figure on the number of cars already inspected, the 20 stations in the county would have to inspect 87 cars per week, in order to get them all ready by the deadline. "If everyone waits until the last minute, some one is going to be left without a sticker on April 15 and is subject to fine," states Mr. Simmons.

The following firms have been designated as inspection stations in the county:

McKinney—Nelson's Buick Co., Gene Hays Motors, Furr Motor Company, Collin County Motor Company, Close Garage, Cox Chevrolet Co., Bullock Motor Company and McKinney Motors.

THE HOME TOWNERS
THE GREEN LIGHTS ARE ON IN McKINNEY AND COLLIN COUNTY

APRIL 1 McKinney will get a 10% fire credit. This is due to an elert citizenship but also the McKinney Volunteer Fire Department comes in for a large amount of the credit. Sometimes we folks take for granted the work of the Fire Department, that it is their duty—on the contrary the Volunteer Fire Boys receive no pay what-so-ever for their work as fireman and saves the tax-payers thousands of dollars each year.

Your Home Towners would like to suggest that sometime in early April that we have an appreciation day for our Volunteer Firemen and hold "open house."

We would suggest that Mayor Newsome and the City Commission issue a proclamation and really have something that is worth while for our boys. All the equipment could be placed on display, school children invited to inspect the fire fighting equipment, have the McKinney High Band to give a concert, entertain the Volunteer Firemen with a bar-b-cue. It's our way of saying "THANKS" for what you have done and what you will do when the siren is sounded, whether it is two o'clock in the afternoon or three o'clock in the morning.

Wylie went ahead after that and stayed on top the rest of the way. Gail Dempsey was leading scorer by the Wylie girls, with 31 points. Other scorers were Margie Cross, with 9 points; Cora Thrasher with 4 points; Betty White with 3 points. Richland's high scorer was Fultz.

Plano Loses To Buna 56 To 48 In State Meet

AUSTIN, Texas.—Class B teams paid almost strict attention to the form sheet but the top favorites in Classes A and AA were jarred to the sidelines by speed and sheer hustle as the 35th State High School Basketball Tournament opened here Thursday.

Ousted in first-round action were Sudan, a stout choice to take the Class A championship, and Atlanta, only a slightly lighter favorite in the AA division of this big 5-class meet.

Dickinson, a Gulf Coast long-shot, outscrapped the taller Sudan team from the western edge of the Panhandle all the way to post a 55-51 victory. Another far west Texas entry, Seminole, showed all the hustle that Sudan lacked, however, to upset Atlanta, 60-56.

Otherwise opening games in the huge, colorful final battleground of Texas' schoolboy basketball giants brought expected results.

Buna joined Dickinson in the Class A finals, slated for Saturday day along with all other title games, by squelching a heated Plano rally for a 56-48 victory. San Marcos routed Freer, 62-30, in the final Thursday night game, to gain a AA championship spot against Seminole.

Miss Helen Youngblood, pianist, and Miss Bobbie Thorn, soloist, presented the prenuptial music.

The exhibit is located in the East show window at the Style Shop, on the North Side of the public square. The window is centered with a large green tree, surrounded by some of the handwork of the students. Crystal radio sets, made by the children, are creating much interest, as well as the numerous other items. Health and Science are emphasized including pictures, charts and posters. The Special Education exhibit was also displayed in the same show window, with handmade dolls, pictures and other articles made by the students, along with literature showing the type of studies carried on in this special program for exceptional children.

Modern day science was revealed in the exhibit in Carr's shop, on the North Side, where a television set, record player, recorder, movie projector, etc, were displayed.

The West Ward featured the "3 R's—Readin', Ritin' and Rithmetic." A typical school girl at her desk was displayed, along with large placards showing the methods used in teaching handwriting, arithmetic and reading. Books used in the elementary grades, and other literature, were on display. Some of the work of the pupils in the first, through the sixth grades was also exhibited. This very attractive and educational exhibit is found in the North show window of the Leader.

Salvation Army's 75th Anniversary To Be Observed March 10

The Salvation Army observes the 75th anniversary of its service to the American people Thursday, March 10. And throughout the country the "Army of Peace" will receive tributes in recognition of its mission to care for the poor, feed the hungry, clothe the naked, love the unlovable and befriend those who have no friends.

The Salvation Army now has a total of 160 operations in the state. It carries on an extensive Christmas program for needy children and needy families; it has a spiritual and character-building program for youth; helps transients; provides parole service and spiritual counsel to men and women in jails and prisons; helps unmarried mothers through its state home and hospital; aids servicemen; lends a helping hand to the needy and the homeless; works with people who have problems whoever they are; and has a disaster relief service which goes into action at a moment's notice.

FARM PAGE

"Return Something To The Soil--Or The Soil Will Turn Against You"

NEWS FROM THE BOARD OF SUPERVISORS — of — THE COLLIN CO. SOIL CONSERVATION DIST.

Many farmers in Collin Soil Conservation District state that they are planning on sweet clover growing on part of their crop acreage this year. Quite a number of landowners have started planting these valuable legumes and the planting season will continue through the month of March.

More farmers realize the value of clovers each year when they see increased crop yields resulting from these crops. Clovers not only add nitrogen to the soil, but clover roots loosen up the soil, making it easier to plow, and it takes up water much better.

Both the Hubam and Madrid clover varieties are used in this section. Each has a definite place in our cropping rotation, since Hubam is a one-year plant and Madrid grows two years before making seed. Hubam makes a fast growth and is popular as a soil improving crop, either alone or in small grain. Madrid, the two-year clover, can be hayed or grazed the first year. During the second year it makes a more vigorous growth than the first. It can be cut for hay, used for grazing, or saved for a seed crop. Hay yields are usually one to two tons per acre, and most farmers speak of the quality as being equal to alfalfa.

Phosphate fertilizer is very important in making any clover planting a success. Since nearly all of our blackland soils show by soils analyses that they are deficient in phosphate, an application of 200 to 400 pounds of superphosphate should be given sweet clovers at time of planting. Seed should also be inoculated with the proper inoculant. The recommended seeding rate fo rthis district is 15 pounds of good quality seed per acre.

Hubam and Madrid sweetclovers give the best results. When planting with a grain drill, sow the clovers at a rate of 10 pounds an acre.

Trew suggests 15 pounds an acre planted broadcast or with a grain drill if the clover is planted in pure stands for hay or as a green manure crop.

An application of fertilizer usually will increase yields. These clovers also can be planted in Johnsongrass stands. They increase the total forage yield per acre and improve the quality of the forage, Trew adds.

...News From The... COUNTY AGENT

By V. L. DAHLBERG

WOLF CONTROL

According to Virgil Dahlberg, Collin County Agent, we now have a wolf control man for all of Collin County. The Commissioner's Court, Judge W. E. Button, presiding has helped to make this a reality. This program is supported by the U. S. D. A., Commissioner's Court and voluntary contributions from farmers and ranchers in the county. The need for the program will determine how long it will be in force in the county.

Mr. J. H. Benson is the man who will do the work. He has been serving the Frisco community and doing an excellent job since December 1 and will continue to serve that community in addition to the remainder of the county.

For ease in operation of the program the county will have three large communities namely Frisco, Plano and Farmersville. Your contributions should be made to that community nearest you. The cost for each community per month for the time the program will be in effect will be $29.17 per month. Men acting as chairmen in their communities are as follows: Frisco, Mr. Morris Morgan, Frisco, Texas; Plano, Mr. G. R. Merriman or D. W. Prince, Rt. 2, Plano, Texas, Farmersville, Mr. J. W. Talley, Farmersville, Texas. Please make checks payable to Wolf Control and mail to community chairman nearest you.

These wolves have caused considerable damage in the county and their numbers were increasing steadily. They have killed calves, lambs, and poultry in the county, says Dahlebrg. If you have had this happen to you, surely you will be interested in seeing that the program is a success in every way.

Mr. Benson does not trap or bomb these wolves on any mans place unless he has received written permission from the farmer or rancher concerned. After that is done he will place a sign on the entrance to the farm stating that the farm is cooperating with the U. S. D. A. in this program.

If you would like to get in contact with Mr. J. H. Benson, please mail letters to him addressed to Frisco, Texas or contact the county agent's office since Mr. Benson plans to move to the central part of the county soon.

OVERSEEDED SMALL GRAINS WITH SWEETCLOVERS BRINGS EXTRA SPRING AND SUMMER GRAZING

Sweetclover overseeded in small grains will provide extra grazing for livestock during the late spring and summer in Central and North-central Texas areas.

Hubam or Madrid sweetclovers planted in areas north of Temple, Texas from not until March 15 will put additional pounds of beef on animals and held relieve overloaded drouthy pastures at the same time, says E. M. Trew, extension pasture specialist.

LONGER LIFE AND BETTER OPERATION FROM PROPERLY INFLATED TRACTOR TIRES

Farmers are advised to check for proper tractor tire mounting and inflation before the busy spring planting season begins. A tire with proper pressure gives longer life, better operation and means an operational saving, says W. L. Ulich, extension agricultural engineer.

Rough or careless use will shorten greatly the life of all farm tires. Under-inflation causes bruise breaks, buckling and uneven wear. If pressure is too low, the tire will be crushed against the rim, or the cords in the tire will be stretched by hitting such sharp objects as stumps or rocks. Tires with too little pressure usually are more easily punctured.

Over-inflation leads to "impact breaks" and faster tread wear, he points out. High pressure combined with too little wheel weighing reduces traction, causing excessive slippage and rapid wear.

Check for the right inflation pressure at the beginning of each season and follow with regular inspection throughout the season.

A tire filled too full of water has the same effect as over-inflation. Fill only three-fourths full, then add enough air to reach the recommended pressure. A good "rule-of-thumb" is to turn the tire so the valve is on top, open the valve, and let the water above this point run out.

CUTWORM

Cut worms are out most aggressive and costly insects. There are many kinds of cut worms attacking ornamental plants, lawns, gardens and field crops. They give us more trouble in the spring and early summer than any other time.

Cutworm damage can often be avoided in our small gardens or flower beds by wrapping a piece of heavy wax paper at the base of the pant when setting it out. The lower part of the cylinder of paper should entend about two inches into the soil and the top should extend 2 or 3 inches above the soil.

Several insecticides are effective in controlling the pests. Dusts containing 5-10 per cent DDT, or 10-20 per cent toxaphene, or 5 per cent chlordane are very effective. Any of these insecticides is effective when used as a spray. When using thee inecticide on field crops, toxaphene is recommended at the rate of 2-3 pounds per acre, DDT at the rate of 1-1½ pounds per acre, and chlordane at the rate of ½-1 pound per acre.

Man or animal should not eat any vegetable or other plant for at least two weeks after any of these insecticides have been applied.

LETTERS FROM . . . THE PEOPLE

EDUCATION WEEK

True education means a full and harmonious development of the Physical, Mental and Moral powers. Neither should be neglected. Germany and Japan, for many years developed Physical and Mental powers of their people, but neglected Moral training for military aggressions.

Many people seem to think that if the U. S. and the States will go deep enough into the pockets of the tax-payers and double all public salaries and increase the number of employees, that we would soon have a Utopia. Efficient and honest service should have good pay. But law enforcement officers say crime is overleaping restraint. Our state is paying over ten times as much for education now as it paid 50 years ago. I am sure many school teachers earn their pay. But there is something wrong with our educational system.

The Texas prison report of 1940 showed:

Of the 6070 prisoners, 5470 had from common to good educations while only 600 were illiterate. That does not mean that education increases criminals but it shows that if moral training is neglected crime will increase.

Unless pupils are imbued with obedience to rightful authority, and due respect for the personal and property rights and feelings of all others, they will make trouble for others. Are not juvenile criminals on the increase?

If parents, schools, and local enforcement officers fail to restrain youth the court will have to do it or tolerate anarchy. Sam Houston had faults but his crowning virtue was honor. When he died his wife removed a gold ring from his finger; the word honor was etched on the inside of the ring. His mother gave him the ring when he started to the War of 1812. She told him honor and courage are dearer than life. Nearly every youth will try to imitate those he admires. America has more heroes and patriots who are worthy of imitation than any nation on earth. If this nation wants a generation of honest, dauntless and elightend patriots put in the hands of the youths biographies of men and women who are worthy of imitation.

Warn them against idleness and extravagance our greatest evils.—T. C. ANDREWS, McKinney, Texas.

Rev. Jerry Hill, of Austin, was the dinner guest of Mrs. Raye Hodges and family Sunday. He preached at the Walnut Grove Presbyterian Church Sunday morning at 11 a.m.

UNUSUAL . . . .

Seen About Town

By CAPT. ROY F. HALL

Saw Chester Carter on the street in a good-looking shirt. Now, the reason I mention a shirt particular is that has anybody ever seen Chester with a coat on? Funny thing about this is that he has one of the finest overcoats in the county hung up in a closet at home. A good, solid citizen.

Letter from F. H. Lovelady, who went to Guatamala a month ago on a construction job, taking his family with him. Mrs. Lovelady writes that he draws down one thousand iron men a month, has a house furnished him and a new Chevrolet. Go south, young men.

Two little boys were pawing through the broken boxes thrown cut on Virginia Street from Duke & Ayres. Asked them what gives, and one said he had found a toy pistol, and was now looking to see if he could find some caps to shoot in it. Hadn't found any when I left. There's where they found the pistol.

Noted Si Allen going through a pantomime with George Raymond Smith at Perkins Bros. Smith was arranging a schooi exhibit in the show window, and Si was trying to tell him by signs from the outside just how it should be done. Despite Si's Indian signs, George pretended not to understand. All in fun.

Rather large crowd in town first Monday. Farmers are up with their work, and awaiting corn-planting time.

Take a look at the school-book display in McKinney Drug Company's windows. Here's some dope taken from it: through the twelvth grade a child uses 265 books. 37,523 books are used in the McKinney schools, which costs Texas $41,275.00. There are over 200 in the windows. 265! When I went to school we went through about fifteen, and had to buy our own.

One of the best of the School-Week displays is that in the window of the North Side Drug. Here practically every theorem in math is laid out so that even one with no mathematical sense at all can understand the most intricate problems up to and including calculus. If we had had something like this in my young days I would not have had to fight those things on an old slate.

Saw Rufus Paysinger, a fine farmer from west of town, trying desperately to get in the Collin County Bank about five o'clock Saturday afternoon. Inquired of Rufe, but as I got only a mumbled answer I went on. Possibly he does not know that all banks close at one in the afternoon on Saturdays so that bankers can go fishing.

The Watchtower Sociiety — Jehovah's Witnesses—held a meeting at the coliseum Friday through Sunday, which was largely attended. Saturday they had Witnesses on every corner in town, passing out literature. Reverend R. E. Collier held the meeting. This is one of the fastest-growing religious sects in the world, and they work at their religion, are very devoted, and can possibly give some of us pointers. For instance; on the small circular handed out Saturday were the words, "All Welcome. No Collections."

Mild weather is upon us again. There is no cold spells in sight for the moment. The lowest temperature Saturday, Sunday and Monday was 26 at two o'clock Monday morning. As this lasted only an hour, no damage was done. May get a little rain along about Wednesday or Thursday.

Plano Unit Of Soil Conservation, Has Completed Busy Year

The Plano Soil Conservation service unit, in cooperation with the Collin County Soil Conservation District, has just completed its busiest year.

Soil improving and increased yields were the main incentive for about 6,000 acres of winter and summer cover crops being planted in the area. Vetch and Austrian winter peas were the main cover crops, while Hubam, Madrid clover and alfalfa composed the main summer crop plantings for the 6,000 acres.

Mrs. Murray Evans Writes Interesting Letter From Germany

Mr. and Mrs. Frank H. Haynes have received an interesting letter from their daughter, Mrs. Murray Evans, who with her husband, Major Evans, and little daughters, Karen and Lois, are residing in Germany, where he is stationed with the army. Mrs. Evans and family have visited many interesting places in that country which she describes in her letters to her parents. The following excerpts are taken from a letter which she wrote, February 21.

"What a wonderful time we had while in Garmisch. We had to travel there and back through a lot of snow, so we took two days both ways. Spent the night in Stuttgart, went through Munich (Munchen, the Germans call it) passed within a few miles of Dachu, but since the weather was so snowy, we didn't try any side trips.

"I just love that part of Germany which is in Bavaria. Garmisch is a resort town in the German Alps, and it is like a storybook; quaint little houses with murals painted on them, tucked in a valley surrounded by towering snow-topped Alps. There was 16 inches of snow while we were there, and the horse - drawn sleighs rode through the town (as well as cars, buses, etc).

"The first night we were there we stayed at an Army sponsored hotel — had two bedrooms and two baths for ..6 per day. Lois laughed so loudly at the clowns that the people around us were watching her then.

"The next day we all took a train that went through a two and a four mile tunnel to the top of the Zugepitzgruppe mountains. Uunfortunately, it was snowing then, otherwise we would have been able to see into Switzerland, Austria, and back to Munich which was 50 miles away. The last night we were there, Murray and I went to the floor show in the hotel and saw a teom of Tyrolean dancers who "jodeled" (yodeled), danced, cut wood to music, etc., all in the Tyrolean costumes. This was very entertaining.

"We all went to another spot part way up a mountain and rented ski-shoes, and skiis for Karen — she did very well, too! We also rented a sled for Lois, and then spent uor time helping them. But it was great fun, and we made pictures. We are eager to get them back and send them to you."

Major and Mrs. Evans are making the most of their stay in Germany and will have many interesting experiences to tell their families when they return home.

Misses Holly Redden and Lois Miller were week-end guests at College Station for the Freshman dance at A&M. They were guests of Joe and Bill Crump of McKinney, who are students in A&M this year.

Mrs. Tom Rattan and Mrs. Lena Brown of Anna, were Dallas visitors Wednesday.

David Haggard, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bill Haggard, has been confined at home with illness the past day or two.

Capt. Hall Gives Qualifications For Commissioner

CAPT. ROY F. HALL

The above cut of me is placed before you with some misgiving. Wife studied it and suggested that it might influence voters. "Honey," I retorted. "That's the whole idea. When people see that excellent likeness they will make up their minds instantly, and the other commissioner candidates won't have a Chinaman's chance." That set her back on her heels, but she did manage to say, weakly, "that's not what I meant."

Anyway, I was born two miles north of McKinney, and took a 3-R course in the old Wilmeth school. Let me right here make it plain that I never in that schooling period made a B, a C, or even a D, and we had some tough subjects too. Boys and girls were just naturally smart in those days. Further thought brings to mind that I am sure was due to the fact that country schools had no grades then.

I entered the Regular Army in 1904, and was later commissioned a captain. I served as an officer for twelve years and would have remained many more, had I not took violent exceptions to the morals of a superior officer and was forced on the retired list in 1929. I have farmed in this county, worked on the old interurban and taught school. For the last several years I have devoted a lot of time to writing.

I had always maintained McKinney as my bona fide home and came back here in 1939 to settle down for life. I have five children by my last marriage; five by a former. (As a salve for the wounds this is sure to inflict on the ego of my worthy opponents, I wish to regretfully state my ten children are short of the pace set by my grandfather. He had thirteen).

As this old grandpappy was a colonel during the Civil War, and had eight sons in the Confederate Army, I am a staunch Democrat. But not a rabid Democrat, for at widely-spaced intervals I have a tendency to sort of kick over the traces and cast an independent vote.

I am an independent candidate for the office of City Commissioner, and if you see fit to elect me I will give to you, and to the mayor you select, the best I have. In the coming election of April 5, 1955, I favor neither candidate for mayor, as a matter of ethics. Everyone in the race is a friend of mine. I run alone, for I believe in that way a candidate can be chosen more on his merits than if he were on a ticket. I ask each and every one of you to think of me as one who has worked, and will contine to work for the best interests of the people of McKinney.

ROY F. HALL

WHAT OTHER ....

● PEOPLE ARE THINKING

To The Daily Courier-Gazette:

There has been considerable discussion among the people of McKinney regarding the need for an auditorium. Or perhaps analyzing it from a pro and con angle, there have been comments expressing the views of those who see a need for an auditorium and there have been comments expressed by those who have ripened into the age of complacency and who see no need for any improvement, or building for an age which no longer has a place for, or even tolerates horse and buggy days attitudes.

No doubt about it. There are a number of things which McKinney needs. Some of them we don't have simply because we have been too prone to leave the doing to "George." And old George, fully aware that there really wasn't any of us who could or would kick his pants off if he didn't do it . . . well . . . .George has just coasted along, and with the exception of a few bruises to his dignity, caused by stone tossers who really couldn't throw very hard—well it brings us up to current date as far as time is concerned, but trailing way back in the dust so far as progress is concerned.

Two big paragraphs have been "hunted and pecked" out of the machine thats doing the original assembly of this small masterpiece, and we haven't arrived anywhere to speak of. That just goes to prove what was said back up the column a ways. I've reached a ripe old age where I just like to do a lot of "wind-milling," and let 'er go at that. If I want to park my jalopy in the middle of the street and talk to Herkie Hurdle-sputter for fifteen minutes, I think the policeman in the block should suddenly get near-sighted, and even if he is close enough to observe the errors of my horse and buggy manners, I think he's a half-baked upstart, poorly picked by the department, for a place which could be more adequately filled by some body less nosy.

"Now," you say, "what the heck is old "Loose Talk" getting at? He said something about an auditorium in his very first sentence of this conglomeration." My!!! Ain't I the rambling one? But just to show you that this loose jointed meandering can be tightened up till she fairly squeaks—or makes somebody else squeak—just follow to the next paragraph!

McKinney needs NEEDS. NEEDS a public or municipal auditorium! This need isn't a thnig that has just recently popped up. The need has been existent for a number of years and has steadily grown greater! And you immediately say—those of you who frown upon the idea of planning or spending for such an auditorium—if this need has grown so great, why has something not been done about it? That was answered back in paragraph one. And elaborated upon in paragraph two. We as a public have been too busy pursuing our own individual interests to do the necessary amount of unified thinking and planning. And old George couldn't do much by himself and because he has been pleasantly conscious of the fact that we were pretty happy piddling with our own mud pies, George has spent a considerable portion of his time thumb twiddling.

Who is this chap George? George is the guy who's left to do the job which we know should be done, and which we know we should roll up our sleeves and help do, but we just shudder when we think of sweat, taxes, giving up the sweetness of our own personal complacency, and so we don't join George to get the job done. And George, not being a Hercules in the first place, finds himself the victim of two circumstances . . . his duty—which is never pleasant, and his own will, which in most instances, is just as weak as any of ours.

Now that's a long way around just to say why McKinney has no municipal auditorium. But my paw used to say: "Don't never tell a neighbor heck No! That always hours his feelings and proves that you ain't no diplomat. Tell him you'll think it over. When you stammer like that he knows darn well you ain't going to any way. But his feelings ain't hurt!"

Now I could have said that we were all a lousy bunch of loafers and that was why we have no auditorium in McKinney and every body who read this column would be mad—including me. 'Cause nobody's gonna call me a lousy loafer and get away with it—even if I am one! So that's the reason we took the long way round to explain why McKinney has no auditorium. I wanted me and every body else to stay in a good humor—even if we have to do without an auditorium!

Look, Mr. and Mrs. McKinney Citizen. Laying all the poor grammer aside, and discounting all the foregoing except the bare facts . . . as the home towners say . . . it's later than most of us think. The will of a townful of people can never have a great deal of meaining, or move toward a marked degree of progress until the townful of people have unity of purpose, minds and effort. Unity of purpose can provide the needed auditorium for McKinney—plus a great many other things McKinney NEEDS! "George and them" aren't going to do it. It must be George and us! Us means you and I and everybody!!
